

The Good News! Trust has been working in Kenya since 2006 and over 90 Schools have been either built or repaired in these last 10 years.

In 2016, we are looking to raise £30,000 to rebuild Kisuri Primary School. Rosemary Le Breton and Simon Spottiswoode visited the school on their visit to Kenya in February. Four of the classrooms are built of mud and we will rebuild these in brick. The other four classrooms are badly in need of renovation.

Money raised through this Thanksgiving offering will go towards a specific part of the project. As a guide, it will cost £3,550 to build one new classroom, £1,541 to provide two water tanks and guttering, £1,200 to renovate an existing classroom and £1,278 to build a block of latrines.

The new buildings will look similar to these:

Thank you for your support.
